2005: Government grants and contracts as a percent of core revenues

Government grants and contracts as a percent of core revenues Government grants and contracts is equal to For public institutions using GASB (34/35) standards: Federal operating grants and contracts (F1B02) State operating grants and contracts (F1B03) Local operating grants and contracts (F1B04) Federal nonoperating grants (F1B13) State nonoperating grants (F1B14) Local nonperating grants (F1B15) For private-not-for-profit institutions using FASB standards (Note some public institutions use the FASB standard). Federal grants and contracts (F2D05) State grants and contracts (F2D06) Local grants and contracts (F2D07) Government grants and contract revenues is then divided by total core revenues Government grants and contracts (revenues) - Revenues from governmental agencies that are for specific research projects, other types of programs , or for general institutional operations (if not government appropriations). Examples are research projects, training programs, student financial assistance, and similar activities for which amounts are received or expenses are reimbursable under the terms of a grant or contract, including amounts to cover both direct and indirect expenses. Includes Pell Grants and reimbursement for costs of administering federal financial aid programs. Grants and contracts should be classified to identify the governmental level - federal, state, or local - funding the grant or contract to the institution; grants and contracts from other sources are classified as nongovernmental grants and contracts. GASB institutions are required to classify in financial reports such grants and contracts as either operating or nonoperating. Operating - GASB requires that revenues and expenses be separated between operating and nonoperating. Operating revenues and expenses result from providing goods and services. Operating transactions are incurred in the course of the operating activities of the institution Nonoperating - GASB requires that revenues and expenses be separated between operating and nonoperating. Operating revenues and expenses result from providing goods and services. Nonoperating activities are those outside the activities that are part of the operating activities of the institution. Most government appropriations are nonoperating because they are not generated by the operations of the institution. Investment income is nonoperating in most instances because institutions are not engaged in investing as an operating activity. Gifts are defined as nonoperating. Nonexchange transactions generate nonoperating revenues.
